NASTRAQ Joins Forces With Kyle Robertson, the Intellectual Property Defense Counsel of Landmark Apple Cell Phone Wars, and for Intel, Cisco and Facebook

GlobeNewswire 7 hrs ago

LOS ANGELES, July 23, 2014 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- NASTRAQ announced that Kyle Robertson joined NASTRAQ as company discloses that its first priority is to protect intellectual property of company, and its artists; music, videos, films, books and all things creative. NASTRAQ, the stock market for music, videos and all things creative said that its decision to bring on Kyle was only a formalization of an existing relationship. Kyle has been a supporter from the very beginning.

Robertson said, "NASTRAQ's approach is powerful because dynamic pricing is fair to both consumers and artists. In the weeks to come, we will be releasing more details about the NASTRAQ API which will enable any programmer to integrate content streaming from NASTRAQ artists." "Kyle is a very uniquely qualified and experienced individual with hands on programming, hardware, artificial intelligence, and gaming experience who in 2006 combined his technical expertise with a Law degree and participated as an intellectual property attorney on litigation for Intel, Cisco and Facebook, as well as the landmark cell phone wars as defense counsel for Apple. He also prosecuted patents for Veveo and Bit9, among others," said Sam Senev, Chairman of Global Private Funding, Inc.
